HOOSIERS TO OBSERVE FT. SACKVILLE'S FALL

Incident Gave Northwest Territory to U. S.

Indianapolis.—Led by the Indiana Historical society, a movement has been started for a general observance of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the capture of Fort Sackville (Vincennes) by George Rogers Clark and a small army of American pioneers.

The event took place February 24 and 25, 1779, and it is the plan to celebrate on those days in 1929.

All states of the old Northwest territory—Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota—have been invited to participate. Indiana historians hope that a permanent memorial to Clark and his men may be the result. An effort will be made to bring about a national observance.

Gained Northwest Territory.

It was Clark's daring attack that wrested the Northwest territory from the British and opened it to the Americans. It was accomplished only after the greatest of heroism by the small raiding force. Some historians have proclaimed the accomplishment as more important to this country than the battle of Bunker Hill.

Not only was it so important to the United States, but it also was the chief, and almost the only, military victory for the Americans west of the Allegheny mountains in the Revolutionary war.

Clark, heading a small force recruited from the pioneers and commissioned by Virginia, captured the British post at Kaskaskia, Ill. Soon afterward the British governor of the territory, who had been at Detroit, came to Fort Sackville at Vincennes and occupied it.

In midwinter Clark's band set out for Vincennes, determined to take the post or lose all in the attempt, for they recognized its capture would spell the end of British dominion in the region.

Surprise Completely Successful.

Through partly frozen swamp land, across flooded rivers, the men marched, ending with a surprise attack on Fort Sackville. Within 48 hours they had captured the governor, his men and the post.

In the treaty that followed the Revolutionary war, the Northwest territory became a part of the United States.

The Indiana Historical society has appointed a committee to develop plans for the celebration, which will come at a time when the eastern portion of the country also will be observing sesquicentennial anniversaries of the Revolution. It will meet soon to begin definite planning for the observance. The committee is organized temporarily as follows:

William A. Fortune, Indianapolis, chairman; Dr. C. B. Coleman, Indianapolis, director of the Indiana Historical commission, secretary; William H. Book, Indianapolis, executive secretary. Others are: D. F. Culberson, Vincennes; Dr. J. A. Woodburn, Bloomington; F. C. Ball, Muncie; C. J. Richards, Terre Haute; Lew O'Bannon, Corydon, and Mrs. Anne Studebaker Carlisle of South Bend.

Woman, Frightened, Gets Verdict of $200

New York.—What is the measure of damage sustained by a woman who, while in her apartment, arrayed in her nightgown, sees a man entering through the fire-escape window, who she believes is a burglar, but who turns out to be telephone adjuster making his way into the wrong apartment to install a telephone? Mrs. Evelyn Pillarella estimates her damage at $10,000 in a suit against the New York Telephone company.

A jury in the Bronx Supreme court fixed her monetary damage at $600, while a decision by the Appellate division of the Supreme court reduced the sum to $200, and provided that if she did not accept the lower sum a new trial would be ordered.

George T. Loughran, a tenant, applied for telephone service. He promised, but failed to leave a key for the telephone adjuster. The latter decided to use the roof.

He said he noted the location of the apartment and thought he had identified the fire-escape window leading to it. But he got into Mrs. Pillarella's apartment. She screamed, and when neighbors ran in she was on the verge of collapse.

Organization of a Rotary Club for Davis, Yolo county, is planned for the near future, preliminary work to that end now being done by City Attorney Forest A. Plant and E. S. McBride. The Sacramento club will probably be asked to act at the formal institution of the organization.

Mrs. R. L. Cardiff of Santa Cruz has been appointed by Governor Friend W. Richardson to attend the national safety conference to be held at Washington, D. C., the 23rd and 25th of this month. Mrs. Cardiff is the first vice-president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

EXPLAINS "GAG RULE" IN LORDS

Briton Tells of System in Upper Body.

Washington.—The marquis of Huntley, who, as a guest in Washington, has observed the American senate in action, issued a statement explaining the operation of the British house of lords, of which he has been a member for more than 30 years.

The statement was issued at the request of and through Vice President Dawes, who is conducting a campaign for amendment of the senate rules so that a majority of that body may cut off debate on any subject at any time.

The marquis said there was an erroneous impression that the house of lords was without a rule under which a majority could end discussion.

"Under the standing orders of the house (which it is said have not been altered for more than 200 years)," the marquis said, "any peer may rise in his place and move that the question now be put; that a peer, rising to speak, be heard in preference to the peer then addressing the house, and that any matter is not 'in order.'

"When either of these motions is made it is the duty of the lord chancellor (who acts solely as ex-officio chairman of the house) or of the lord chairman of the committee, when the house is sitting as a committee, to read it out and to say 'those who are in favor of the motion will say "content," the contrary, "not content," and if his verdict on the response is challenged he orders a division, the 'contents' to the right of the throne and the 'not contents' to the left of the bar. By the result the house decides for or against the motion.

"It will be seen, therefore, that the general sense of the house can be obtained and enforced by a majority of the peers present."

Eskimo Must Pay His Alimony With Animals

Anchorage, Alaska.—One bull moose, properly butchered and delivered; ten mink skins, dressed and stretched; five gray fox pelts or one silver pelt, together with 100 full-grown salmon delivered in season is the alimony Charlie Big Eyes must pay his squaw.

This was the decision handed down in divorce proceedings by tribesmen who heard the case against the native of Ninilchik, on lower Cook inlet.

The judges decided that the foregoing constituted a fair share of the increment accruing to a well-regulated native family, whenever the husband drank up 50 mink skins at $5 per pint, the prevailing price for the brand of volcano juice fabricated by the manufacturers on the inlet.

The defendant in the case was charged with having terminated his drinking marathon by pitching his squaw into the creek when she chided him.

British Invention Checks Speed of Falling Planes

Paris.—Ninety per cent of the airplane accidents, according to Capt. F. T. Courtney, a British wartime flyer, would be averted by adoption of the helicopter idea.

A new device, consisting of four horizontal gyrators, and which he calls the "autogire," was demonstrated by Captain Courtney at the flying field at Villacoublay. This invention, he declares, will eliminate the greatest risks by automatically diminishing the speed of a falling plane. He says it also does away with the difficulties of landing.

He gave an exhibition test in a small Avro plane and was able to make his landings easily and gently. The "autogire," he says, may be adapted to any ordinary plane

Raises 1,600 Bushels Corn on Ten Acres

Columbus, Ohio.—Sixteen hundred bushels of corn from a ten-acre plot, an average of 95 bushels an acre from 180 additional acres, tabulation of 1,088 hills of corn before a "mussed" one was found, and several hundred hills averaging five stalks to a hill, are the records set up by Ira Marshall of Dola, champion corn raiser.

"Proper soil, proper cultivation and the right kind of season are what one needs for a crop like this," he declared while attending farmers' week here. "I had them all last year."

A decision in favor of the government, which asked a permanent restraining order to prevent A. A. Hall and C. F. Lunn, both of Quincy, Plumas county, from interfering with the construction of a recreation park by the city of Oakland, near Quincy, was handed down by Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan, a short time ago.

The California National Guard announced that efforts will be made to equal the drill attendance efficiency of the New York state militia by 1927. The crack New York units, it was said have an average attendance of 80.9 per cent at all drill and maneuvers.

All Voters Asked To Attend Coming School Elections

A ruling recently made by Attorney-General Webb, to the effect that all persons who failed to re-register between January 1st and February 24th are technicaly deprived of the right to vote for school trustees, has caused a great deal of confusion, and if taken literally will make a farce of the elections. After discussing the matter with the County Superintendent of Schools and others, the local school authorities are advising all persons whose names were on the Great Register prior to January 1st, and all others who have registered since that day, to cast their ballots on March 26th, unless challenged at the polls, in which case it will be necessary for election officials to reject votes not technically legal.

Since the state and county school officials can see no method whereby a technically legal school election can be held successfully, the County Superintendent has expressed the intention of appointing the persons receiving the highest number of votes for the various trusteeships, should the election be declared illegal.

Up to this time the registers of the preceding year have been used as a basis for school elections, and the ruling of the Attorney-General, which came too late to allow for the legal registration of the great majority of voters, would, it appears, if literally observed, defeat the whole purpose of the school eelctions. Therefore, it is the opinion of school authorities generally that the spirit of the law, rather than the letter, should be adhered to.

Carpenter, 86, Goes Sleepless 20 Years

Lincoln, Neb.—A. D. Gregg, a carpenter, has just celebrated the twentieth anniversary of the last time he ever took a nap.

Back in 1906 Gregg had a severe attack of chills and fever. This was succeeded by an onset of rheumatism that caused him unspeakable agonies. For weeks he could not sleep because he could remain only a few minutes in any one position.

In time he got over the rheumatism, but he had become so accustomed to going without sleep that he hasn't slept any since then. Gregg says that he hasn't spoken about this fact for several years because of the general incredulity that met his story whenever he happened to tell it in the years past. He doesn't care whether anybody believes it, but it is true, just the same.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

Boy Scouts of Davis, Yolo county are being called together for a determined mosquito drive in the city limits.

A meeting for the purpose of forming a Merced County Bar association was held in Merced, Merced county recently.

A meeting of farm bureau leaders of Kern, Tulare, Kings, Madera and Fresno counties was held in Madera recently.

Expenditures totaling $124,000 will be made by the Pacific Gas and Electric company in the vicinity of Oroville, Butte county, this year.

Orders were given to the state traffic officers by Will H. Marsh, chief of the state division of motor vehicles to arrest all motorists found driving machines with 1925 license plates.

Arrangements are being made through committees of the Kings county chamber of commerce and the county farm bureau for a cotton conference to be held in Hanford soon.

H. L. Smith, secretary of the Board of Trade of San Francisco, for more than thirty-three years prior to his resignation in 1904, died recently at his home in San Rafael at the age of 80 years.

A comprehensive program for the present year has been mapped out by the Willows Chamber of Commerce under the management of Stephen Goin, president and Charles Brown secretary.

Arbor day was observed at Redding, Shasta county, by the Women's Auxiliary of the Redding Chamber of Commerce, setting out trees around the school houses and setting out shrubs in the grounds.

AUTOISTS ROUTED FOR BLOSSOM DAYS

The General Committee of the Santa Clara County Blossom Festival at Saratoga has made definite plans to relieve her guests who attend in automobiles. Autoists can rest assured that their trip will be free of usual traffic troubles.

Everybody has been urged to attend and it is rumored that the program is to be so worthwhile that all the 'gasoline Dobbins'' of all vitages and varieties will be pressed into service March 27th and 28th.

The County Traffic Squad, consisting of a score of officers, is to be augmented by many specials. Captain Pacheco and his force have been for the past three years studying and improving the method of handling the tens of thousands of machines on the roads at that time. This year they will have the best plan yet developed, with a force organized to successfully carry it out.

Routes are being laid out for the use of the various lines of through traffic so as to avoid traffic centers. These routes will be well marked and drivers will be able to get through to destinations quickly and with the least possible interference. This will relieve the main roads and leave them free to handle the Saratoga traffic exclusively.

Not only will the various routes be properly marked, but diagrams of the roads leading to Saratoga will be published in all papers a number of days in advance of the Festival. On these diagrams will be indicated the best line of travel for those going to the different destinations. Officers will be stationed at the important cross roads to guide and give directions.

THRILLS FOR MOVIE

Manager A. Saso, of Campbell Theater has instilled considerable interest in the local screen pictures by having a number of local business houses and other sights pictured. He will show these on Saturday, Sunday and Monday evenings, Saturday and Sunday matinees along with the regular films. Several scenes from the high school play "Sherwood" a panorama view of a blossom section near here and the Campbell fire boys in action showing their efficiency in a thrilling rescue.

Movies and still pictures of the high and grammar school studdents will also be shown.

A baby contest, Jackie Coogan and Charlie Chaplin impersonation contests were held and movies taken of each. See them at the local movie house, Saturday, Sunday or Monday.

TO EUROPE SOON

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Perrott expect to leave the third of April for New York, from where they will sail for England to spend some time. Miss Joan Ainsley, who has been visiting here for several months will return to her home at West Hartlepool, England, at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Strayer of San Jose will occupy the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perrott during their absence. Mr. Strayer is one of the J. C. Ainsley office force.

Statistics received from the Attorney General in Washington show that the San Francisco office, in charge of George J. Hatfield, United States District Attorney, is one of the most important in the country. The figures show that it ranks with Chicago and New York City. The population of the northern district of California, is 1,746,000; that of Chicago district 3,824,000; and that of New York City district, 3,801,000. During the last fiscal year the San Francisco office secured 1,283 convictions in criminal cases as against 1,020 in Chicago and 2,926 in New York City; conducted 171 jury trials, to 75 in Chicago and 134 in New York City and imposed fines amounting to $360,000, compared to $498,000 in Chicago and $369,000 in New York City. In addition to the appelate work of the Northern California district the San Francisco office takes care of the appeals from the Districts Courts of Hawaii, Shanghai and Alaska.

SEN. YOUNG AT CAMPBELL

Although a number of our citizens were present it is to be regretted that not more availed themselves of the great privilege of hearing Senator Sanborn Young's address on "Narcotics", Monday evening.

Mr. Young is probably as fully qualified to speak on this subject as almost any one in the country as he has studied, investigated, visited institutions throughout the length and breadth of the land, and conferred with federal Narcotic officers at Washington and in other cities. He has also helped draft state and national laws regulating the traffic and dealing with the pedlar and the addict.

The whole subject was so comprehensively and interestingly discussed that the attention of everyone was held throughout and the talk seemed all too short.

The interest of Mr. Young in this subject was first aroused when he was a member of the grand jury of Santa Clara Co. nad was assigned to the Morals Committee. Since that time he has devoted himself whole hearted by the work of ascertaining exact conditions in our own state and what has been accomplished elsewhere. He told of institutions now in existence and wherein they fail.

In conjunction with a committee in San Francisco, the other members of the state narcotic commission, Dist. Attorney Coolidge and the Attorney General of the State, he has practically completed the draft of a new law to be presented to the next state legislature providing for an institution where the addicts will receive the right kind of treatment physical and mental, to effect a cure, and then time and work to perfect their rehabilitation.

From a careful study of statistics reports and conditions Mr. Young estimates that there are about four thousand addicts in California, and the purpose of the institution is to gather these in just as fast as possible and so destroy the pedlars market.

Many questions were asked at the close, the answers to which added to the large fund of information already imparted.

This district is very fortunate in having as its senator a man who has the time, ability and great interest necessary to carry on, and carry out such a program of benefit to mankind and as he says that to be a success the work will need the backing of all good citizens; everyone can help in a number of ways, one of them being intelligent voting.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS' CHURCH NIGHT

Next Sunday, March 21st, is Church Day for all Camp Fire Girls over the country. Church Day closes Birthday week, an annual Camp Fire.

It has been the custom for the girls to observe Church Day at the evening service in some local church by taking charge of the service.

This year the three local groups will meet at the Congregational Church.

Short talks, explanations of the Camp Fire Law and ideals, the desires, and several songs, will be given by the girls.

Everyone is cordially invited to come and bring their friends. Time is 7:30 p. m.

The Pacific Gas and Electric company has filed an application with the state railroad commission for the purchase of the Bell Electric company of Auburn, Placer county, which conducts an electrical distributing business in Auburn and vicinity.

Governor Richardson recently reappointed Edward A. Dickson, Los Angeles publisher, and James Mills, Glenn county farmer, as members of the Board of Regents of the University of California. They were given terms of sixteen years each.

SONG PROGRAM ENJOYED BY CLUB

At Monday's meeting of the Country Woman's Club, plans were announced for the luncheon to be served to the County Federation which meets here on Mar. 26th.

The program was in charge of Mrs. M. E. Purmort who announced that Miss Schulte would read a paper for Miss Dalvit on "Current Topics". It proved to be very bright, humorous quips involving recent happenings thruout the world.

The Chairman's paper was a "History of some of our National Songs," which was decidedly interesting and enjoyable as most of our patriotic songs have been written under the stress of war, she had started with the Revolutionary Period and described them in the various war time.

Thefi rst one was Yankee Doodle which has quite a varied history, followed by "The Sword of Bunker Hill" which Mrs. R. H. Hyde sang very effectively.

"Hail Columbia, Happy Land" is one of the oldest, appearing in 1789 as the President's March, the words being written later.

All are familiar with the story of the "Star Spangled Banner" but all may not know that it was called "The Defense of Fort McHenry."

"America" and "Columbia; the Gem of the Ocean" appeared during the war of 1812 time and none of lasting type followed the Mexican War.

There were a great many songs written before and during the Civil War, Stephen Foster was the author of a number based on Negro melodies, and Julia Ward Howe wrote the "Battle Hymn of the Republic." "Dixie" and "Tenting on the Cold Camp Ground" were great favorities. Mrs. Hyde and Mrs. D. H. Cramer sang the last named.

The Cuban War produced no new national songs although "Hot Time" was played so much that the natives took it to be our national anthem.

Many songs were written and widely sung during the last war but whether any will survive cannot be determined now.

Miss Schulte read a very beautiful poem of James Whitcomb Riley's, "How Old Glory Got Its Name."

Several songs named had been type written by the high school and were sung by the club. Mrs. G. S. Robson presided at the piano throughout the afternoon.

BOY SCOUTS WILL AID SARATOGA BLOSSOM FESTIVAL

The annual spring get-to-gether and camp of the Santa Clara County Boy Scouts will be held at Saratoga the week-end of March 27th. At this camp the scouts are the guests of the Santa Clara County Blossom Festival and of late years have been a regular feature of the program at Saratoga.

Scoutmaster, J. A. Emrich of Saratoga has charge of this part of Blossom Festival program and with his assistants is planning a bigger and better program this year. The 300 boys who took part in the 1925 gathering will all be boosters for the event this year, and from present indications, the number in the 1926 encampment will reach the 500 mark.

There will be drills, contests and demonstrations of the Scout Program under the able generalship of County Scout Executive, White. White says that he has assurance that this gathering will almost double last year's not only in point of attendnace but also in point of accomplishment. There will be an increasing number of events for the joy of the audience and the participants—these two groups could well be ccalled the "men of the present" and the "men of the future."

CLEANING-UP TIME

In the spring a housewife's fancy turns to thoughts of cleaning up. Spring is tne time for taking inventory of trash piles whether they be in the alley or behind the piano. This business of cleaning up is no respector of persons. We should be more chaitable with the modern woman, however, for she is presumed to have the house tidy at all times. But not so with communities. It seems that there must be a periodical scrubbing and mopping, lest at any time we stumble and fall over our own rubbish. If neatness and personal cleanliness helps toward success, the "attire" of a town or city attracts the passers-by, contributes to the self respect of the community and to the health and well-being of its people.

An organized clean-up, fix-up, paint-up campaign is desirable. In addition, let each citizen do his part individually. The most effective committee on earth is the committee of one when it commits. When someone starts the ball of dirt a-rolling it will gain momentum until it lands in the dump heap where it belongs.

MEXICAN BAN ON RELIGIONISTS

Under an old dust-covered clause in Mexico's Constitution, all church property belongs to the Government, and no one has the right to administer church affairs except Mexican citizens. Until recently the statute has not been enforced. But that is Mexico's business, so long as enfercement does not amount to confiscation of aliens' property or violation of foreigners' rights. Every nation is entitled to its sovereignty with respect to the sovereignty of other nations. But for religion, Mexico's attitude is far from "good business." Religion needs freedom of promulgation instead of restraint in administration. Altho we have enough worries of our own to be much concerned over who rings the church bells in Mexico, we do regard the measure as a slap at civilization which can have no good consequences for the cause of spirituality.

MOVING TO THE MOVIES

Late statistics give the number of motion picture theaters in the United States in excess of 20,000, with an average weekly attendance of 130,000,000. In numerial sense every man, woman and child seems more than one movie a week. Has censorship and regulation kept pace with attendance? The producers and exhibitors say that the public is the only logical censor. Judging from the feeble and unsatisfactory attempts at organized censorship, the claim appears to have merit.

POLITICS WARMING UP

With congressional elections in the offing, and local offices to be filled in many places this fall, one begins to hear common voices in the air. The cry will be, as it always has been, that these are the times that try men's souls, politically speaking. A campaign orator would be far more consistent in saying that this campaign, like every other campaign in the history of the country, is all-important, but no more important—not nearly as important—than in many times past. Such a statement would not satisfy the voter-listeners who like always to be flattered into believing that their votes this time will undoubtedly save the country.

FOREST FIRES ON DECLINE

Total number of forest fires showed a considerable decline last year, leading to the assumption, that at last the campaign of educating the public to reasonable care against fire is beginning to bear fruit.

For example, the acreage burned over in national forests in California was only about one-eighth of the area of last year, and cost of fire fighting was only about one-tenth. This is more remarkable because there was an increase in number of fires from spontaneous combustion and other natural and unavoidable causes.

The 1925 report sets a good example for this year, and if the need for constant vigilance is kept in the public mind, we may succeed in still further reducing destruction of our forests through heedless handling of fire.

Bakersfield to learn what stand the board of directors wished to be maintained respecting foreign labor immigration, particularly in connection with the San Joaquin valley, where cotton production has made the labor problem one of the acute agrarian issues of the day.

The victory of the United States in the bitterly contested Parente case, recently tried in San Francisco, is of particular interest at the present time. The government's efforts to suppress the liquor traffic by stopping the sources of supply were notably encouraged by the verdict in this case. Five defendants were convicted of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law.

With a grand jury recommendation that the old high school building at Sanger, Fresno county, be condemned staring them in the face, the people of Sanger will vote on the $270,000 bond issue. The bonds will remodel the old building and build a new one and put in equipment to raise the school to the A accredited grade.

The $1,300 sterilizing plant in the county hospital at Redding, Shasta county, was wrecked recently by the explosion of the hot water tank connected with it. The explosion made a loud report that roused the seventy patients in the institution. The window of the room was carried away bodily and the plastering knocked off the walls and ceiling.

CAPITAL EASY TO ACCUMULATE THROUGH SYSTEMATIC SAVINGS

There is nothing mysterious about capital. It has an important sound but reduced to plain, every-day language, it is nothing more than that which you have saved from yesterday's wages. Whether you have put aside one dollar or five dollars, the amount represents your capital, and there is a world of power behind it.

The accumulation of capital is easy for anyone who is determined to get ahead. The Mercantile Trust Company of California, as a means of encouraging ambitious persons, permits the opening of Savings Accounts for as little as One Dollar. Systematic additions, with four per cent interest compounded semi-annually, will build up a substantial capital in a surprisingly short time.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation of the helpful kindness of our many friends and their beautiful floral tributes.
Mrs. R. E. Dunphy and children.

SPRING FEVER

The extremely summery weather of Saturday and Sunday caused quite an exodus to the mountains and the coast.

Our valley and foothills have been the mecca of many autoists this week as the first trees and flowering shrubs are in their full glory. The beauty of these is enchanced by gardens filled with gay blooms from countless bulbs of many kinds.

Regigns from Bank

Merlin J. Bohnett has tendered his resignation to the Mercantile Trust Co. to take effect April 1. Mr. Bohnett has been in the local institution for the past few years and has risen rapidly to his present position. He has made many friends and patrons of the local branch who will greatly regret his departure. He has been a very efficient assistant manager.

NEW FUNERAL CHAPEL OPEN MONDAY

One finest edifices of its gind in the state and one for which the proprietor, town and community may rightly feel proud is the new funeral chapel of Edwin H. Melvin, an enterprising undertaker of Los Gatos.

The Chapel has just been completed at the corner of West Main street and Tait Avenue and will be open for public inspection today, tomorrow and Sunday, and is most conveniently arranged. On either side of the entrance hall is the office and reception room. The Chapel room is so arranged that the relatives and musicians are away from public view and can observe the services thereby allaying the grief caused by meeting friends. The exits are through side doors direct to the autos. The parking space from hearse and all autos is so arranged to expidite the movement without congestion.

The storage and display room is so arranged to give one a comprehensive inspection. The preparation room is at the rear for the caretakers convenience. The building is hacienda style and inside and out this idea is carried out. This new edifice is a real mark of progress and faith in this section of the country and Mr. Melvin is to be congratulated on his enterprise.

Mrs. Cowles' Letter Continued

We are living in the center of a beautiful bowl, you know. Our house and the Church, and school house, a litle "city set on a hill," whose light must always burn brightly and never be hid. Sprinkled over the green hills which loom up round about us, are our churches, and some are far away through the gaps in these hills, for our field extends over forty miles into the beyond.

In the little white church on the skyline, a revival was held lately, and 89 repented. At Chief Ndunge's, seven miles away another revival. All is wide awake there, beer given up and most of the other sins. At Chief Tomases, on a ridge close by, a wonderful work is going on under the leadership of Isaac. Isaac is only a boy, barely twenty. He was converted in Durban, dug a hole in the back yard and other medicines, covered with earth, stamped on them, Lord, and came home to witness for God. Isaac' witnessing in his own kraal home has had the effect of turning many to God. Polygamists are coming to his hut services. Many, who were dressed in skins and clay, have now stood up and chosen Christ, and are clothed and happy in their simple new found faith, and still the wonderful work goes on under the leadership of this boy. Isaac comes often to see us. How thrilled we are as we listen to his recital of more sinners saved. How we tremble for fear we may fail to guide this remarkable boy into the full measure of the possibilities which lie before him. Sometimes Isaac spends the night here, and when we hear him at dawn pouring out his soul in prayer to God, then we know the secret of his power. Chief Tomase's people and his Father's Father's people were my Father's people, and they have been worked for, and prayed for, since 1870. There were no results to speak of before Isaac came. As one of the women remarked in an awed whisper, "It seems as though Isaac has ben created." And now Isac wants to come and be my cook. I am just wondering how it will seem to have our young "Bily Sunday" in my kitchen! Very nice, I think, for Isaac is just as humble as he is sincere and willing. A Christian boy in my kitchen means everything to me, for he helps to evangelize my Night School and our whole native family.

I asked Isaac, one day recently, to come and hold a meeting with my Night School boys. It really was an inspiring picture. There were six benches full of my little rag tags. Before them stood Isaac, so big and strong and clean and earnest. Those big eyes all turned up to him, those brown faces! At the close of the meeting, a pathetic little pile of cigarettes upon the table, bore witness to the effectiveness of Isaac's preaching. Oh this curse of civilization! How it ruins our fine little Zulu boys! We have never before had so much trouble in Night School over smoking. Isaac's coming called for a decision, for or against the straight and narrow way. How happy we were to have most of the boys choose Christ. The spirit of the Night School has been quite changed since Isaac came. Of course, many will fail, but I let myself build air castles sometimes, and I see here and there this distracted land, one of my little herder boys, born again, and changed into as hepherd of men. I have had a fine school this term, with forty on the Roll. How these little boys can keep it up week after week is amazing. They study until nine thirty and they they are up again at early dawn to walk the mile or two or more to their homes, to help in the early morning ploughing. It is a big effort, but they do it even though they go to sleep while standing in Night School. How lovely it was to have my Night School building put in repair and whitewashed, just before school opened! How fine it was to have funds for that, and funds too for paying the teacher her salary of five dollars a month! Again thank you, dear Everybody, for each contribution to help my work, as well as adorning my home.
